Bonds are an important part of your business

A bond is an agreement that provides monetary compensation to the beneficiary if you, the principal, fail to meet your contractual or legal obligations.

Bonds are a valuable alternative to bank guarantees and cash retention, as well as an effective way to increase your capital base. Bonds secure your performance without requiring you to provide tangible assets, thus enhancing your liquidity.

Bonds provide several benefits

- Secure your performance.
- Increase your credibility and improve your relationship with your partners.
- Increase your liquidity and flexibility. There is no impact on your bank limits.
- There is no need to provide tangible security. This can free up your working capital and allow you to undertake new projects.

Atradius is a leading bond provider in Europe

At Atradius Bonding, we serve a wide portfolio of businesses of all sizes across a wide range of industries, looking for a unique bonding partner to support them locally and internationally.

The knowledge and reputation of the people who work at Atradius Bonding are vital to our success. We have long-standing bonding expertise, deep local market knowledge and the ability to seize niche market opportunities. We have grown steadily over the last decade and earned the trust of major organisations, which has propelled us as a leading bond supplier in Europe.

Atradius Bonding is active and can issue bonds directly in 11 European countries: Belgium, Denmark, France, Finland, Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Norway, Luxembourg, Spain and Sweden. Bonding requests related to other countries are evaluated on a case-by-case basis.

We have a dedicated team that identifies international business opportunities and harmonises the Atradius proposition to international customers. One of our strategic priorities is to further develop domestic and international business in order to maintain our position as a leading international bonding provider and to meet our customers' expectations of a pan-European line of bonds. In addition to continuously looking for opportunities to cooperate with banks, we also strengthen our relationships with brokers on an international level, to further provide cover for risk and develop distribution.

Wide range of bonding products

We work with different industries and maintain relationships with a wide range of companies by providing niche products, online services and know-how to our customers. We are active in various sectors, primarily transportation, construction, logistics, capital goods manufacturing, import and export, and food and beverage. In addition to those traditional industries, we also see demand growing in new sectors such as environmental services.

We offer various types of bonds, including bid bonds, performance bonds, advance payment bonds, payment bonds, maintenance bonds, custom bonds, compliance and other commercial bonds, judicial bonds, and EU bonds/contribution bonds. Our wide range of bonding products enables you to select the most ideal, customised solution for your business and puts you in a stronger financial position when dealing with your business partners.

Examples of standard bonding products and how they work for your business

Imagine that you are a construction contractor and want to participate in a government project. First, you need a bid bond in order to participate in the tender. A bid bond insures the original bid, guaranteeing the project owner (the beneficiary) that you are able to enter the contract at the bid price stated and to provide the required performance and payment bonds if you are awarded the contract.

Upon winning the tender, you need a performance bond to secure the contractual obligations of your performance as it relates to agreed-upon conditions (e.g. price, timeline and quality).

You might need to request some funds in advance in order to meet your start-up or procurement costs. In this case, you need an advance payment bond, which guarantees a refund to the project owner if delivery or performance does not take place.

To insure project quality and protect against problems with defective materials or workmanship, you need a maintenance bond.

Manage operational risk and grow your business with Atradius Bonding

How does Atradius make a bonding risk assessment?

Atradius Bonding combines your risk of default with individual and independent performance risks. Our experienced financial underwriters assess your ability to provide the beneficiary with recourse or compensation. Our knowledgeable technical underwriters assess your ability to perform on an individual obligation taking into account factors such as national legislation, local market standards and local trade sector background. Two separately organised underwriting teams produce opinions and then collaborate on a joint decision, allowing the maintenance of a well-balanced portfolio.

Growth in the international marketplace comes with inherent risk. Atradius Bonding can help you do more than just manage that risk and protect against worst-case scenarios. We will work with you to create a customised strategy that helps you increase your credibility with your customers, maintains your flexibility and liquidity and, perhaps most importantly, gives you peace of mind, freeing up your resources to grow your business and take on new projects.

Why choose Atradius?

- We can quickly and easily handle your bonding needs.
- We create tailor-made solutions and offer flexibility on bonding policy wording.
- We have long-standing bonding expertise and market knowledge to adapt to your needs.
- We will assist you with technical and financial advice that might prevent default on your obligations.

In addition, Atradius offers...
